

What is the Certificate of Entrepreneurial Mindset in Undergraduate Research?

This certificate program is aimed at incorporating entrepreneurial mindset in undergraduate research. By incorporating an entrepreneurial mindset that focuses on curiosity, connections, and creating value, undergraduate student researchers will be more productive and develop a greater appreciation for their research project.

The certificate program consists of 10 challenges, labeled by color. Students must complete 8 of these challenges in order to earn the certificate. The challenges may be completed in any order. We encourage students to work with their research mentors to align the order with their research onboarding and development.
